Temple Shalom of Central Florida

November 2017 - Cheshvan/Kislev 5778
Vol 15 Issue 11

Through Iris' Eyes

The other day I attended a 2018 Budget Committee meeting. Saul Truskin, a past president, is on the committee. He suggested that I make a plea to those who have not yet responded to the Yom Kippur Appeal.

If you attended Kol Nidre services, you heard Eleanor Neff. It is a Temple Shalom tradition for Eleanor to give the sermon on this holy night. She possesses the charm and determination to motivate the congregation to give generously for a myriad of reasons. Her theme this year was friendship and how it impacts the survival of this congregation. The “family of friends” motto was developed years ago and it remains one of the building blocks of this temple. Kudos to you, Eleanor!

I also think Rabbi Mel is a motivator. In the August edition of The Shalom, his message resonated with me. I share his words with you:

“I wonder, why don’t we ever give our offerings out of a spirit of gratefulness to be alive? Don’t we ever just feel good about our lives? Like everything is going the way we want it to? What would be so terrible about sitting down and sharing our good feelings with the rest of our Jewish community? You know that the highest level of giving is anonymous giving. I love seeing donations given by Anonymous. That means that life is good for somebody and he or she feels like sharing. And his/her identity is nobody else’s business. It’s between you and God.”

If you haven’t already done so, please consider giving to the annual Yom Kippur Appeal today. Thank you.

See you in Shul,
Iris

Lessons Learned Along the Way

HAPPY THANKSGIVING

Well, we got through the High Holidays with great ruach (spirit) and vigor. I was so spiritually moved by your participation and your joining together in the traditional prayer melodies. Cantor Kriger, his wife Lizzy and their ensemble added so much to the services. It was for me, and for the many members of our temple who shared with me their positive feelings, a tremendous and enriching experience.

I realize that it is almost November, and I have not yet had an official opportunity to thank you for bringing me and Ellen to Central Florida. Thank you also to those who help me be “me” on the Bimah. I realize that change is not easy, not for you and not for me. We get set in our routines and don’t like to change them. Nevertheless, I feel we are getting there, becoming used to each other. Time helps that process.

Thanks to Alan Matisoff and his Rabbi Search Committee, which he told me was “now disbanded.” The journey from that first FaceTime call to today has been filled with great activities and new experiences. From burying the old siddurim in early July, to rolling out the entire Torah on Simchat Torah, we have explored Jewish life in a way that has enriched us all, and I look forward to much more in the future.

I am indebted to Iris Holtz, our president, for her strong support of Ellen and me, and all that we have brought to Temple Shalom. Iris is not only my President, she is my friend, and I am grateful that she partners with me in so many suggestions that I bring to her. Thanks too to the Board for their support and encouragement.

I am honored that so many of you have already begun to call on me for personal counseling. If you need me, call either my office number (352.748.1895, or my cellphone 719.510.1901) and we can make an appointment. As some of you already know, I return calls promptly, and you can see me quicker than you can see your doctor, lawyer or accountant. In addition, if you would simply like to spend some time schmoozing with me, call me and we'll make a date. Maybe for lunch.

Thank you to the members of our Temple for your support and your friendship. I love it here, and hope to be your First Rabbi for many years!

Happy Thanksgiving to you and your loved ones.

TEMPLE SHALOM SISTERHOOD GIFT SHOP

Hanukkah is approaching fast. We will be celebrating the holiday with friends and family. The Gift Shop has many items for this joyous occasion.

One of our new items is Dreidel Dog by Mark H. Newhouse, the newest addition to our fun-filled collection of children's books. Mark is a multi-award winning author. You will remember Mark for his passionate speech and poem on Kristallnacht. He loves writing books that make children laugh while they learn. In Dreidel Dog, animated illustrations and hilarious rhyme help children understand the true meaning of Hanukkah. Children can make their own dreidel and learn how to play with the included rules. He hopes Dreidel Dog will become a family treasure enjoyed for years to come.

The Gift Shop is featured on our Website...www.templeshalomcentralfl.org. Stop by...You'll like what you see. We are open Monday through Thursday 9:30 am to 3:30 pm and Friday until noon. Call Toby 753-2622, Reva 750-5167 or Derick 748-1800

The PROMISED LANDscape donations toward our beautification project are coming in at a slower pace than anticipated. Therefore, the next phase of Temple landscaping needs to be delayed for a while longer. We are about one-third of the way to our goal so we need your green to green-up our grounds! Please consider the Morgan Landscape Fund when making your future contributions to our congregation.

Brotherhood - At Brotherhood - we have a place for you!

September was a busy month for the Brotherhood. I would like to thank all our members who volunteered to be ushers for the High Holidays and especially George Cohen and Steven Rosen for handling the parking lot duties even in the rain.

In between Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur we ran our annual Golf Scramble. We had the best turnout ever. We had 50 participants which included six ladies. We all had a great time and everyone went home with lots of prizes. Next year we hope to have more ladies join us.

Since we all enjoyed the Eagle Ridge Golf Club, we will probably hold it there next year. The camaraderie that developed was evident. Long-time members met some of our newest members and our newest members felt right at home with everyone. That is one of the aims of our Brotherhood. Come join us and you will feel the friendship.

Coming events for the remainder of the year are:

- A pre-Thanksgiving holiday dinner
- A Golf Getaway in November
- A Christmas day brunch and movie at the Temple

Look for further information on these and many other events and programs in the coming months.

Lastly, don't forget the Brotherhood Breakfast the third Monday of every month. There is always an interesting speaker and great bagels and lox.

See you all soon!

TO ALL OUR WONDERFUL SISTERHOOD MAH JONGG CARD COLLECTORS AND POTENTIAL COLLECTORS:

Hello everyone. It's time to start planning for 2018 card sales. Yes, it's amazing it's that time again. Sales will start in late September - early October.

The last two years we sold just under 3000 cards and made over $5000 for Sisterhood and our Temple.

Sisterhood Fundraising Vice President Nancy Tulin feels we can do better this year, and we agree. We now have so many recreation centers it is impossible for us to make sure they all have someone to help sell cards, and we need your help. No, we am not asking you to cover more rec. centers, but that would certainly be great if you could.

What we need to determine is where the sales are being made. Do you sell in a rec. center, your neighborhood or other places? Someone told us they sold a card in a restaurant to a total stranger. You never know where or when you can get an opportunity to sell.

Many recreation centers have Mah Jongg more than one day a week and more than once a day.

It is so IMPORTANT for us to know where you make your sales. Your efforts have been outstanding. Every year sales have grown, and the money raised has steadily increased.

We thank you for your help and support of Sisterhood and Temple Shalom.
tscflmah@gmail.com

P.S. Please let us know if you are interested in being a part of our Collection Team.

   	ARE YOU A MAH JONGG PLAYER? I hand make the following items in my Villages home. <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Mah Jongg mats bordered in beautiful printed cottons, tiles just slide across the table.</li><li>• Mah Jongg card/ zippered money holders</li><li>• Tile holder &amp; rack/pusher bags for travel or storage.</li></ul> E-mail me at m_levenson@yahoo.com to see my huge selection. ## Israel Solidarity Committee

On November 1, 2017, there will be a momentous program at Temple Shalom.

Rebecca Shimoni-Stoil, Washington Correspondent, will speak to us about "JERUSALEM-PAST-PRESENT-FUTURE". This topic was selected due to the 50th anniversary of Jerusalem's reunification May 23-24.

Here are some highlights of the rich tapestry of Israel's capital:

Reunification

*Jerusalem Day is an Israeli national holiday commemorating the reunification of Jerusalem in the 1967 Six Day War.

*During the Jordanian occupation of Jerusalem, Jews were not allowed to access their holy sites, including the Western Wall.

History

*Jerusalem has been attacked 52 times, captured and recaptured 44 times, besieged 23 times and destroyed twice over the course of 3,000 years.

*The name "Jerusalem" most likely comes from "Urusalim", a word of Semitic origin meaning "Foundation of Shalem (wholeness) or "Foundation of God".

Religion

*Jerusalem has more synagogues per capita than any city in the world.

*Jerusalem is the only city in which some 15 different Christian communities live alongside one another, according to the Jerusalem Institute for Israel Studies.

*Jerusalem is considered the eternal capital of the Jewish people.

*Jerusalem is mentioned more than 600 times in the Hebrew Bible, but not once in Islam's Quran.

*There are more than 70 different names for Jerusalem in Jewish scripture.

*The Old City of Jerusalem is divided into the Muslim Quarter, Christian Quarter, Jewish Quarter and Armenian Quarter.

Government

*Although all branches of the Israel Government are headquartered in Jerusalem, the city is not home to any foreign embassies.

Demographics

*Jerusalem is Israel's largest city in both landmass and population.

*Jerusalem's population is comprised of 61 percent Jews, 36 percent Muslims,

1 percent Arab Christians and 1 percent non-Arab Christians.

*Thirty-four percent of Jerusalem's Jews identify as Haredi.

Economy

*Jerusalem is home to more than 400 high-tech companies.

*Fourteen percent of the Jerusalem workforce is self-employed.

*This year, a noticeably high proportion (almost 50 percent) of newcomers to Jerusalem were 20-34 years old.

*The new immigrant population of Jerusalem (those arriving in the past 20 years) represents about 13 percent of the city's Jewish population.

Our next program will be Wednesday, January 3, 2018 at 7:00 pm when we will present Dina Benari, Southeast Director of the Friends of the Israel Defense Forces.

This excerpt is brought to you by Marsha Riefs and Charlene Unitan of The Israel Solidarity Committee (Quoted from Eliana Rudee of Jewish News Service)

A SALUTE TO OUR JEWISH WAR VETERANS

The oldest continuously operating veterans' service organization in the country is that of the Jewish War Veterans. It was created in 1896 by Jewish Civil War Veterans to prove to the nation that Jews have proudly served this country since the Revolutionary War era and to try to alleviate anti-semitism in the military. The JWV organization holds a congressional charter under Title 36 of the U.S. Code.

At roll call on March 15, 1896, at a meeting held at the Lexington Opera House in NYC, there were 63 members. They were known as the Hebrew Union Veterans.

On May 30th 1927, the first memorial service for fallen soldiers and sailors of Jewish faith was held at B'nai Jeshru Synagogue, where the recently ordained 24 year old Stephen Wise conducted the services. Rabbi Wise's ties to the Jewish War Veterans organization remained throughout his career. After WWI, the leaders of the organization changed its name to Hebrew Veterans of Wars of the Republic and then in 1924 the name changed to Jewish War Veterans of the Republic. In 1927 it was responsible for gaining federal legislation to place the Star of David on the markers on graves of Jewish military killed in France. Until then, all graves were marked with a cross. The final name change came in 1929, when the group became known as the Jewish War Veterans of the United States. There are currently approximately 15,000 members, past and active duty military personnel and over 250 posts.

The Jewish War Veterans in the tri-county area was initiated in 2011, by Gerry Prezioso and the late Marty Lasker, and a post was formed in The Villages in 2012. It was named for astronaut Judith Resnick, a reform Jewess, who died on the space shuttle Challenger when it exploded. The membership includes veterans from WWII through the Middle East wars. Barbara Fieldman is the only female veteran in the group, and Robert Via is the veteran holding the highest rank of general. Also the JWV is proud of its wounded veteran, Isaac Fretz, who was severely injured in Iraq. Gerry Prezioso, commander of the post, would like everyone to attend the service at Temple Shalom on November 10 when all veterans will be honored. Donations for needy veterans in this area would be appreciated.

November 11 is nationally recognized as a day to honor all of those men and women who have served in the armed forces of our country. If you are old enough to remember, the date originally marked Armistice Day -- November 11, 1918, the end of WWI. In 1954 the name was changed so that military personnel of ALL conflicts, and even of peacetime, were thanked for their service to America.

We salute Temple Shalom congregants who served their country in war and peace!!

SIMCHAS TO SHARE

MARILYN BYER can now add published cookbook author to the list of her many experiences in the food world. Narrowing her recipes down to her favorite 200, she has put them in a cookbook called Gild A Lily. She had a book signing at The Kitchen Collection in Lake Sumter Landing on October 14.

Byer's emphasis is on easy-to-make recipes that are delicious and presented beautifully.

"Presentation is huge," said Byer.

She credits her mom for teaching her to take pride in preparing and serving beautiful food. "She was amazing with food and entertaining," said Byer.

Professionally she started 45 years ago in Connecticut with Marilyn's Creative Cakes, making cakes for weddings and corporate events. Then she expanded her business and ran an event production company for over 20 years, even becoming a justice of the peace so that she could literally do it all.

She and her husband Alan moved to the Village of Amelia in 2007. She soon became involved in the kitchen at Temple Shalom. Her food and presentation, had so many people asking for recipes and guidance she started inviting people to her home monthly to demonstrate how easy it is to serve food that has the 'wow' factor.

"Poached salmon, my Hilton Head sauce and the fig and brie cups are three perfect examples of easy-to-make, but very impressive recipes, I have included in the cookbook," said Byer. She includes lots of chef notes with her recipes. "People just need to think that they can do it," said Byer. "Confidence is key in cooking." "I love playing with food," said Byer. "It is a wonderful way to make friends and be creative."

Ed-Jew-Cation: Things that go bump in the night

I scream, you scream, we all scream for ... ice cream? Nooooooo. Ghosts! Yes, a Jew goes "boo!", too. Back since Biblical times ancient rabbis, Jewish thinkers, Kabbalists, and Talmudic scholars all dabbled in supernatural beings. Ghosts are mentioned in the Hebrew Bible in Deuteronomy, when Moses warned the children of Israel not to get mixed up with soothsayers, sorcerers, ones who cast spells, or anyone who consults ghosts or familiar spirits. Should we assume that the Bible implies that the world of magic, ghosts, and spirits is real, and the “boogey-man will getcha’ if you don’t watch out?” Moses was concerned about his people, since Jews always co-existed with other tribes and cultures, and some beliefs and practices of those surrounding people could become incorporated into their thinking, causing them to become sinful. Thus, when King Saul requested the Witch of Endor (a soothsayer from the nearby town of Endor) to conjure up the ghost of Samuel for help, he knew he was committing a grave (get it? Grave?) sin. Samuel’s ghost supposedly was annoyed and asked Saul, “Why have you disturbed me and brought me up?” The next day King Saul suffered his downfall. Apparently Jews should let sleeping ghosts lie.

Yet when Jews lived in Babylon, they were then influenced by the Chaldean and Persian belief in good and evil spirits. While in Europe, Jewish forms of superstition took on some of the qualities of the Teutonic, Celtic, and Slavic practices. It is probably from these sources that Judaism has its own witches, like the famous Lilith. She morphed from being the first wife of Adam to being a she-devil that represents unchecked sexuality and the dangers of an uncontrollable woman. Now that’s really scary! Then there’s the supernatural creatures like dybbuks and golems. Dybbuks are the bad spirits that attach themselves to a living person’s soul causing mental illnesses like alien personalities. They are definitely to be watched out for, even though there is literature on how to exorcise the evil parasite and redeem the soul of the afflicted. Golems, Jewish Frankensteins, are actually nice guys made by hand by a rabbi to help a community in times of deep trouble. Although they have been known to run amok, basically they are like Casper (the ghost) Milquetoast.

Getting back to Jewish ghosts, there are several rather well-known ghost stories associated with real live Jews. One tells of a woman named Julia Staab, who, to this day, walks the staircase and second-floor suite of the old La Posada Hotel in Santa Fe, NM. Julia arrived in Santa Fe in 1865, a 21-year-old bride of Abraham Staab. She had been raised in a cultured home in Germany and found the Wild West difficult. Abraham became a very wealthy merchant and built a magnificent (for that area) home for his wife and 7 children, which they called La Posada. It is said by some of the locals that Abraham was abusive and Julia became depressed. Others say that after the death of the eighth child, she indulged in forbidden love, family feuds and stages of madness. The stories are unclear as to whether she was murdered or committed suicide. Whatever caused her early demise, she had a restless soul and has been seen by guests in her home, that was much later turned into the Hotel Posada. She is seen wearing a long black gown and has caused chandeliers to sway, glasses to slide off shelves, and lights to go off and on at odd times. Her great-great-granddaughter, Hannah Nordhaus, has written a book about Julia. If you like ghost stories, it sounds haunting.

Theatre people enjoy the specter of David Belasco, the most powerful personality in the NYC theatre scene in the 1920s. From his death in 1931 until 1972 (at the showing of “Oh! Calcutta!”) his presence was seen and felt constantly at the old Belasco Theatre. His apparition was sometimes dressed in a cossack and clerical collar; he was known as the “Bishop of Broadway.” Sometimes he could be seen seated in the balcony wearing his famous black cape and dressed quite nattily. His ghost was known to pinch actresses’ tushies, speak to actors after performances, wreck a dressing room if the performance was unsatisfactory, open and close doors, turn lights on and off, and make the curtains move. A theatre dog used to bark at 4 p.m. at something unseen. Was it the ghost of David? And though she was not real, who could forget the theatrical ghost of Gramma Tzeitel in “Fiddler on the Roof”? She was a scream!

Perhaps “Ghostbusters” should have been brought in, since they were created by Harold Ramis and the movie about them was produced by Ivan Reitman. Being Jewish themselves, they have probably learned how to make Jewish apparitions disappear. Even though Halloween (All Hallow’s Eve) is not a Jewish holiday, it is a spooky one. So it’s a good idea to listen for and be careful of “things that go bump in the night” - although it’s probably just your spouse getting up to use the bathroom!

You, my readers, are all “BOO-ti-ful”, and I hope I stand “a ghost of a chance with you.”
